The RJ Voice is a designated limited-forum* for student expression. The publications are for the students, by the students. RJ Voice news magazine, RJ Live, and the RJ Voice online are serve as mediums for student opinions and ideas.

The content of the publications reflects only the views of the student staff and not school officials.

The staff strives to produce objective, well-balanced and accurate reporting and content that features a range of students, their interests, and their viewpoints. The staff is dedicated to being fair, accurate, truthful, and responsible. The staff will seek the truth and report it, minimize harm, and act independently. We promise to be transparent, accountable, and open.

The student editors will have final say in the content of the publications.

School officials, administration or faculty and staff, likewise, shall not have prior review or decision-making influence or capabilities when it comes to the content of the publication with the exception of the following cases. *The publication is an open forum except when limited by the following three cases. In the following cases, prior review and prior restraint may be acceptable only by the school president and the divisional principals. The student editors will work closely with the divisional principals and the school president to make content decisions in these cases:

- 1) Obituaries; 2) Crimes and situations that are currently in the court of law ;
- 3) Termination of employees

The following content is not authorized in any student publication in any way, shape, or form:

Expression which is obscene;
Expression which is libelous, slanderous, or defamatory under state law;
Expression which is false as to any person who is not a public figure or involved in a matter of public concern; or
Expression which creates a clear and present danger of the commission of unlawful acts (as defined by state or federal law), the violation of school regulations, or the material and substantial disruption of the orderly operation of the school or which violates the rights to others privacy or that threatens violence or property to persons.

Role of the adviser: Although the student publications adviser has the authority to review a student publication, the adviser will not act as a censor or determine the content of the paper. The adviser will not pitch story ideas, make content decisions, or otherwise edit, write, or make decisions regarding the content of the publications. The adviser will offer advice and instruction, following the code of ethics set forth for advisers by the Journalism Education Association.

The RJ Voice will not publish any material that is a violation of copyright.

The views of columnists are not necessarily those of the staff. Opinions will be published on designated pages or otherwise marked.

Letters to the editor are welcome and encouraged, but will only be published if they are accompanied by a name and signature. Letters should be short and free of "bashing" or obscenity. Letters will not be accepted if they contain any of the unauthorized content listed in items 1-4 above. Letters to the editor do not reflect the views of the staff and will be marked on pages designated as such. The staff reserves the right to edit letters for potentially libelous material and length. The staff will not edit letters for punctuation, grammar, and usage. Letters with issues will be returned to the submitter for further review.

The RJ Voice also welcomes questions, comments, concerns, and complaints. Staff members will strive to correct any error before publication; however, if the editorial board determines a significant error is printed, a formal correction will appear in the following issue.
